

How a Life Plan Community Can Improve Your Quality of Life

THE VILLAGE AT AUGSBURG
A National Lutheran Community

A Life Plan Community can be an amazing place for you or a loved one. A warm, loving, happy community can provide you with a life of choices, fellowship and flexibility. Discover three ways moving to a Life Plan Community can improve your quality of life.

1. Social Interaction

Life Plan Communities have no shortage of social events, activity options, and opportunities to build friendships. Living alone can sometimes get lonely and quiet. In a senior living community, you have the option to be alone or to be social, depending on your mood! Residents can get involved in crafts, volunteering or wellness groups, or they often discover new passions! There is always the opportunity to socialize and make new friends. With all members of the community similar in age, residents often bond and connect over similar life experiences. Human interaction and regular engagement can do wonders for quality of life.

2. Physical Activity

We are all aware of the importance of staying physically active as we grow older. Some may not know how or where to go to stay active. Most Life Plan Communities provide you with access to a gym, along with classes to take, training on proper form, and more. You could find a new love for yoga or for running. You may bond with other members of the community over similar interests in activity. The opportunities are endless!

3. Help When You Need It

Most Life Plan Communities have health services available for residents' needs. Some communities even have on-campus health clinics. Having that extra help in such a convenient proximity can make all the difference in providing peace of mind. In the event of an accident or emergency, help is readily available, meaning an overall safer living environment for you or your loved one.
